INTERNSHIP

Berlin based menswear brand founded by Marco Scaiano.

Clean lines, layers, unconventional cuts and strong silhouettes are revealing designer’s love for architecture. Old churches as well as modern buildings are a big inspiration. Imagine how some buildings can look transparent and light while built of heavy materials. This mix of naturally contrasting materials also comes back in his designs. Cotton, wool and leather go hand in hand. All fabrics are carefully handpicked and of the highest quality. Every piece is produced and tailored by hand in Berlin. The brand is aiming for conscious fashion lovers, who value high quality and timeless design.

Area of responsibility:

- Pattern making
- Design
- Creation of technical drawings
- Production of samples and originals
- Foto shooting assistance
- Social media
- Marketing strategy

Your skills:

- You are studying Fashion Design or Garment Engineering.
- You are proficient in pattern technique and sewing
- You like working in a team
- You have a passion for fashion
- You speak fluent German or English

We offer you:

- An overview into the fashion business, from collection development through participation in marketing strategies and support of our social media channels.
- The opportunity to bring in your own ideas in all areas
- A varied everyday life as a full-fledged team member in a small company with hands-on mentality and flat hierarchies

Note: This internship is an mandatory internship and without compensation.
We look forward to receiving your application consisting of cover letter, portfolio and study course certificate.